THE FACILITY

With a range of destruction services to suit your needs, we are able to organise for the collection or your direct delivery of materials into our secure facility.

Here, your products are under 24-hour surveillance to ensure their successful destruction so that they are unable to re-enter the market at any point and are disposed of immediately after processing. Our service includes the provision of a secure destruction certificate with the options of witness, photo, or video confirmation for your records.

Veolia strives to find the most sustainable outcome for your disposal needs, offering a vast range of solutions in waste management, resource recovery, and industrial and sustainability services.

By using our Spring Farm product destruction services, your waste will ultimately be securely deposited into a bioreactor landfill, owned and operated by Veolia, providing you with a more sustainable alternative to traditional landfilling while maintaining privacy for yourself, your business, and your products.
